EXPLANATION OF THE PLATES.

PLATE

1.—Fossil Fern, to illustrate Mr. Bunbury's paper on a peculiar Fossil Fern from the Sydney Coal-field ........................................ To face p. 31

2.—Isothermal Map of the World, to illustrate Mr. Hopkins's paper on the causes of the Changes of Climate ................................. 92

3.—Reptilian Foot-track, to illustrate Capt. Brickenden's paper on the discovery of the foot-prints and remains of Reptiles in the Old Red of Moray ............................................................... 98

4.—Telepeton Elginense, to illustrate Dr. Mantell's paper descriptive of that Reptile .......................................................... 105

5.—Fossil Shells, to illustrate Prof. E. Forbes's paper on the Extinct Land Shells of St. Helena ................................................ 198

6.—Geological Map of East Canada,

7.—Plan of the Field with Exposed Rock-surfaces, }

8.—Enlarged Portions of the Rock-surfaces,

To illustrate Mr. Logan's paper on the Potsdam Sandstone Foot-tracks.

9.—Protichnites Septemnotatus,

10.—Protichnites Octonotatus,

11.—Protichnites Latus,

12.—Protichnites Multinotatus,

13.—Protichnites Lineatus,

14.—Protichnites Alternans,

14 A.—Protichnites,

To illustrate Prof. Owen's paper on the Potsdam Sandstone Foot-tracks.

15.—Sections,

16.—Fossil Shells, }

To illustrate Mr. Prestwich's paper on the Thanet Sands.

17.—Map of Parts of Belgium and French Flanders,

18.—Eocene Echinodermata and Crania,

19.—Nipadites,

20.—Nipadites and Honium,

To illustrate Sir C. Lyell's paper on the Tertiary Strata of Belgium and French Flanders.

21.—Pterygotus and Graptolites, to illustrate Mr. Salter's papers descriptive of these fossils ................................................................. 392

22.—Geological Map, to illustrate Dr. Bigsby's paper on the Lake of the Woods ................................................................. 400

23.—Geological Map, to illustrate Prof. Nicol's paper on Cantyre ...... 406
